This webinar will be presented by Council for Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR), member organization of the CTCN Consortium. At the CSIR Coastal Systems group, specialist skills in Coastal Engineering, Geographic Engineering systems and Numerical modelling are combined to assess and map vulnerable coastal ecosystems in order to develop specific adaptation measures and coastal protection options to mitigate the physical impacts of global climate change.

A few case studies will be showcased related to the highly interrelated study area of coastal safety and vulnerability, climate change and setback lines for the South African coast.

Date: Wednesday 7 October 2015 Time: 02:00pm to 03:30pm CEST Register Here ^[2]
